WHY CFHI?

01 LONG-STANDING COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Since 1992, CFHI has engaged with international communities through our Global Health Education Programs and Community Health Projects. These close relationships contribute to the high quality of our programming.

02 GLOBAL HEALTH ETHICS LEADER

Our research and scholarship have focused on documenting the harm caused by neocolonial and paternalistic approaches to global health engagement and collaboratively developing standards and best practices rooted in Fair Trade Learning Principles, Asset Based approaches, and appropriate legal and regulatory frameworks.

03 ASSET-BASED COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT MODEL

CFHI connects with our partner communities through an asset-based approach. We identify local professionals as the experts and set you up to value and learn from them. Where many see lack of resources, we see resourcefulness, richness of culture, a wealth of passion, and an abundance of transformative synergies.

04 BUILD LEADERSHIP & CONNECTIONS IN GLOBAL HEALTH

CFHI's programs place you in the trenches of global health alongside local healthcare workers, patients, and community leaders. You gain intimate exposure to global health realities in hospitals, clinics, and NGOs. In addition, you build leadership experience in global health and lasting connections with international communities.
